clear sky FOOD-light

You have a need for better food inventory control but maintaining a perpetual inventory is not a requirement. Purchase Clear Sky FOOD-light, our entry level product, and manage your orders, receiving, and physical inventory with ease. Physical inventories can be completed in half the time when compared with your manual system and our reporting capabilities can help your managers make smarter purchasing decisions necessary for decreasing costs and increasing profits. All of this and more is available with this amazing inventory software.

Clear Sky FOOD-light is two software programs – one running on a desktop PC the other on a handheld bar code scanning device. Both combine to create a solution for effectively tracking and controlling food products. Clear Sky FOOD-light replaces manual inventory procedures and was designed specifically for hospitality. The benefits once implemented include labor reductions, lower costs and increased productivity and profits.
